

Change passwords

If you are the platform administrator, you will have access to the User Management feature. This feature is for assigning users and passwords. It is not available for Autologin access.

